

Marriage Mission

Creating a power couple relationship starts at the end.

Couples often start relationships with what they were taught from their parents and rarely begin with what they REALLY want to create as a team.

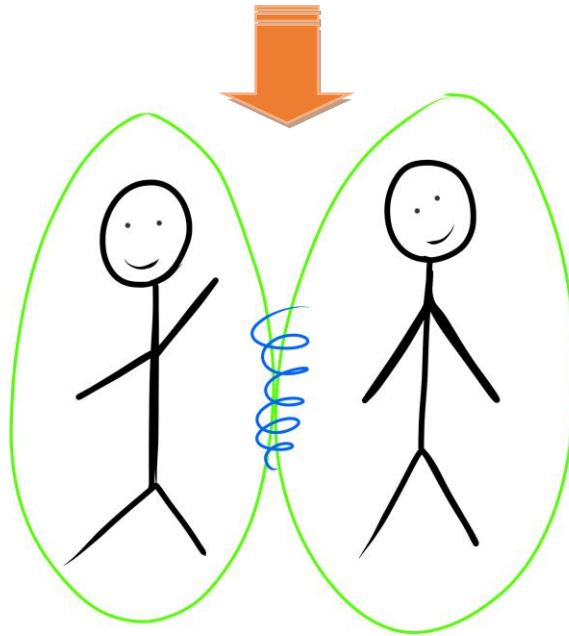

They are then shocked when they end up on different paths that pull them apart instead of together.

What kind of relationship do you want? Even if you are not married, you must decide the end destination you want.

This is the biggest mistake even healthy couples make. Both focused on the same vision is powerful.

Be Clear, Concise & Specific.

List the end vision and characteristics of your ideal relationship.

Write your end marriage mission here:

(Describe it in 10 Words or Less)

